See "FOREIGN TITLES OF NOBILITY"—Cape St. Vincent.

This family is descended from Peter Jodrell, who held lands in the Peak, Derbyshire, 1286. The 1st baronet, Sir John Hase, took the surname of Lombe only, by Act of Parliament, 1762, on succeeding to the estates of his uncle, Edward Lombe, Esq., lineal descendant of Alderman Sir Thomas Lombe, who, under the disguise of a silk-weaver, procured the model of a silk machine from Piedmont, and introduced silk-throwing into England, for which service he received a reward of £14,000. The 2nd baronet, Sir Richard Paul Jodrell, succeeded under a special remainder.

Descendants of the late Col John Johnstone 2nd son of and baronet, who m. Charlotte, da and heiress of John Vanden Bempde, and widow of 1st Marquess of Annandale (see E. Derwent)

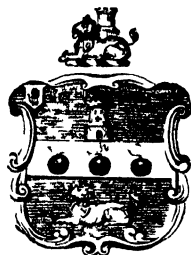

The legend respecting the origin of the crest borne by this family is that the chief Johnstone, while at the Scotch Court hearing of the English king's meditated treachery, in endeavoring to get rid of Bruce in favour of Baliol, who was at that time at the English Court sent him a spur with a feather tied to it to indicate his flight with speed. Bruce acted on the hint, and when King of Scotland, conferred upon him this crest. The 1st baronet represented Dumfries in the Scotch Parliament, and voted for the Union. The 4th baronet was a member of the Imperial Parliament, and Sir William, the 5th baronet, a member of seven successive Parliaments, assumed the surname of Pulteney, and died without male issue, one of the richest subjects in the British Empire. His only child, Henrietta Laura, was created Countess of Bath, and died without issue. The 6th baronet, Sir John Lowther, M P for Weymouth 1810 11, twice declined a peerage that was offered to him by Spencer Perceval. The 7th baronet was M P for Weymouth (C) 1832 5, and the 8th baronet represented that Constituency in the same interest 1874 85.

Issue of the late Capt. William Augustus Kellett, 39th Regt., second son of Henry de Castres Kellett (ante), grandfather of 3rd baronet, b. 18—, d. 1883. m. 1851, Mary, da. of — (son) — Theresa, b. 18—, m. 18—, and has issue living. Residence,

This baronetcy was created with special remainder to the heirs male of the father of the 1st baronet. No reliable information regarding this family was obtained for many years, but it is believed that on the death of the 2nd baronet, Sir William, in 1886 the title passed (in accordance with the special remainder) to the descendants of the younger brother (Henry de Castres Kellett, b. 1776) of the 1st baronet, whose third son was the Henry de Castres Kellett (ante), father of Sir Henry de Castres Kellett, 2nd Bt (ante), who, however, did not assume the title until Feb. 1906. [In Dec. 1905 a William Kellett died at Plymouth, described in his death certificate as "William Kellett, Bart., aged 59" and it is understood that he claimed to be a "son of Henry Kellett, 1st cousin of 2nd Bt."]

The Leightons derive their name from Leighton in Shropshire, where they were seated in the 12th century. They inherited, temp. Edward IV., the estates of Wattleborough and Loton, through the Mawddwys and the Burghs by the marriage of John Leighton with a coheirress of the last-named family. The county of Salop was represented in Parliament by Richard de Leighton, A.D. 1312-18, and has since often been represented by members of this family. The 2nd baronet changed the residence from the ancient castle of Wattleborough to the house at Loton, which he greatly enlarged in 1712.

The popular origin of the Leslie motto, "Grip fast," is said to be owing to Leslie, Earl of Rothes, having saved Queen Margaret of Scotland from drowning by seizing hold of her girdle when she was thrown from her horse while crossing a swollen river. She cried out "Grip fast," and afterwards deared these words to be retained as her preserver's motto. A somewhat different interpretation is, however, preserved in the Leslie family. It is there stated that the founder of the family was Bartholomew, a noble Hungarian, who went to Scotland with Queen Margaret, A. D. 1067. He was much esteemed by King Malcolm Canmore, whose sister he married. In his capacity of Chamberlain to the Queen it was his duty to accompany Her Majesty in her journeys, and as there were no carriages in those days, she rode behind him upon a pillion. On one occasion, while fording a stream, the Queen slipped and nearly fell off, whereon Bartholomew cried out "Grip fast," to which Her Majesty replied, "Gin the buckle bide, there being only one buckle to the belt by which she held on. After this his exclamation was given as the family motto, and two more buckles were added to the colt on the pillion, and also the charge upon Bartholomew's arms, which had heretofore consisted of only one buckle on a bend.

The founders of the English branch of this ancient family came from the Duchy of Lorraine, and were given lands in Northumberland and Durham by William I. In the reign of Henry V, Edward Lorraine married (about 1416) Johanna, co-heiress of William del Strother, Lord of Lyham, and, obtaining with her the estates of Kirk Harle in Northumberland, removed thither. Here his descendants lived for near 400 years. Edward's successor, Robert Lorraine, was barbarously murdered at Kirk Harle by border robbers, in the reign of Edward IV., as is recorded on a monument raised on the spot to his memory. New arms were granted in 1639, to either Thomas Lorraine, a direct descendant of Edward (temp Henry V), or to his younger brother William (who d unmarried), Thomas was a learned and a pious man, and zealous friend of Charles I., a circumstance that caused the soldiers of Cromwell to burn down his seat at Offerton. His eldest son, Thomas, was the 1st baronet.

The royal descent of this ancient clan can be traced to remote antiquity, Gregor Garubh or "The Stout, having fought under King Duncan I. In the early part of the 17th century there were feuds between numerous clans, the Mac Gregors being persecuted with such fury that any person might mutilate or slay them with impunity. In this situation they continued till they were courted to join the Solemn League and Covenant, upon promises of future friendship, but they declared "That as they bore the crown on the point of their swords they would not fail to use the latter in support of the former. They are the only instance of a race being forbidden to bear their family name, which was first proscribed by James VI. owing to treachery and misrepresentation. They were restored by Charles II., 1661, to their estates, and permitted to bear their own name. In the reign of William and Mary the law of proscription was again revived, and continued in force until its repeal in 1774. The name was not however, restored till a royal license to resume it was obtained by Sir John Murray (properly Mac Gregor) 1822

The 1st baronet sat as M.P. for Ross-shire 1702-7, and the 5th baronet was Lord Lieutenant of that county, and M.P. therefor 1822-31. This family is a collateral branch of the Mackenzies, Earls of Cromarty (title attainted 1746), and the present baronet thinks he is representative of Sir John Mackenzie of Iarbat (created a baronet of Nova Scotia by Charles I. 1628, with remainder to heirs male whatsoever, which Baronetcy was resigned and regranted 1704 to his son Kenneth the same year, Kenneth's son George, subsequently also succeeding to the Baronetcy of Royston, cr. 1704) who was father of the 1st Earl. For these Baronetries Sir Kenneth Mackenzie, 8th Baronet of Scatwell believes he is entitled MACKENZIE, Creation (N.S.) 1703, of Dariech.

This Baronetcy, which (like many other of the Nova Scotia titles) does not appear to have been registered, is said to have been conferred upon Sir Alexander Mackenzie of Darien and his heirs successive by Queen Anne; it has been claimed since 1897 as 6th baronet by EDWARD MACKENZIE RAWDON-MACKENZIE (of Melbourne, Australia), el son of Sir Edward Maunde Thompson, G.C.B., I.S.O. (sometime Director of the British Museum), of Mayfield, Sussex, by Georgina Susanna, da. and heiress of the late Capt. George Mackenzie (Jamaica Inf.), of Frankfield, Jamaica, son of Arthur Mackenzie [by Mary, da. of George Rawdon, of Dry River, Vere, Jamaica], great-grandson and heir male of Sir Alexander Mackenzie (ante). From 1899 to 1904 he assumed the Baronetcy, as heir male successive of Capt. George Mackenzie (ante), but not yet having officially established and recorded a right to the dignity—which right, moreover, if existing, would, it is held, be vested in his mother—has now ceased to use the title. The family of Macnaghten is of great antiquity in the Western Highlands. In 1267 Alexander III. granted to Gilchrist Macnaghten and his heirs the custody of the castle and island of Fraochleim on condition that he should rebuild it and keep it fit for the reception of the king whenever he should visit it. His great-grandson Duncan, a faithful partisan of the cause of King Duncan, was one of the band that accompanied James Douglas in his attempt to deposit the heart of Robert Bruce at Jerusalem. The 1st baronet Sir Francis a Judge of the Supreme Court of Madras 1809, and of Calcutta 1812, 25, assumed the additional surname and arms of Workman by royal license 1809. The 4th baronet P.C. G.C.B. G.C.M.G. was M.P. for Antrim (C.) 1880-85 and for Antrim co. N. Div. 1885-7, when he became a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, with title of Baron Macnaghten.

Mathesons occupied the lands of Lochalsh, Attadale, etc., from the 13th century. Their chief being one of those arrested and executed at Inverness in 1427, the estates were granted to Celestine of The Isles, whose granddaughter, Margaret, conveyed the half to her husband Mardonell of Glen-garry. John Matheson, who in 1728 married Margaret Mackenzie, a descendant of this marriage, acquired Attadale before 1738. Their great-grandson and heir male, Alexander Matheson, having in 1851, purchased Lochalsh, was created a baronet under that designation; he sat as M.P. for Inverness District (L.) 1847-68 and for Ross and Cromarty 1868-84.

This family is lineally descended in the male line from Walter (third son of Walter, 10rd High Steward of Scotland) who married 1258 the Countess of Menteth, and thus acquired that earldom. He left two sons, who both assumed the surname of Menteth, viz., Alexander 6th Earl of Menteth and Sir John Menteth Lord of Arran &c., who married Elyne, daughter of Gratney, Earl of Mar and whose granddaughter, Janet Keith, married Robert 1st Lord Erskine and thus the Erskines acquired the ancient earldom of Mar. Alexander 6th Earl of Menteth, had two sons — Allan, 7th Earl of Menteth and Sir John Menteth of Ruskie (who died before 1333), from whom the Stuart Menteaths trace their descent. The STUART Earls of Menteth ended in Murdoch, Duke of Albany, forfeited by James I. of Scotland. The father of the 1st baronet the Rev. James Stuart Menteath assumed by sign manual, in 1770 the additional surname of Stuart "for himself and his posterity." The 2nd baronet resumed the ancient name of Menteth, but his two youngest brothers retained the name of Menteath.

been victorious, an ancestor of the Naesmyths who fought under the royal standard sought refuge in a neighbouring smithy, and the smith disguised him as his hammersman. The Douglas pursuers, entering the smithy, observed with suspicion the disguised hammersman, who in his agitation struck a false blow with the sledge hammer, whereupon one of the pursuers rushed at him calling out, 'Ye're nae smith', the disguised hammersman however overpowered his assailant, whilst the smith, armed with a red-hot iron bar, rallied the king's followers, headed by Naesmyth, and regained the day. The King thereupon knighted the Naesmyth, and bestowed upon him a grant of lands with armorial bearings and motto, 'Not by knavery, but by bravery'. PAYNE, Creation (G.B.) 1737, of St. Christopher's, West Indies.

This Baronetcy has been claimed and assumed by both PHILIP MONOUX PAYNE, of Wootton, Bedford (b. 1858; ed. at Magdalene Coll., Camb., Lord of the Manor of Sandy and Wootton m. 1880, Winifred, da of the late Richard Vigors Doyne Bai-at-law, of 8, Stratton Street, W, and has issue living, 4 das.), and CHARLES ROBERT SALUSBURY PAYNE, of Blunham House, Sandy, Beds (who however dropped the claim in 1900); b. 1859, a retired Lieut. R N, and a J.P. for Beds (High Sheriff, 1911) m. 1893, Aline Cecilia, da. of J. H. Murray, of 34, Ovington Square, S W, and has issue living, a da., b. 1895), el son of the late SALUSBURY GILLIES PAYNE, of Blunham House, Sandy, Beds, who previously assumed the title, and d 1893, having m 1858, Catherine Anne, da. of Robert Chadwick, of High Bank, near Manchester, and leaving other issue living, 6 sons and 4 das., but neither branch has established and recorded a right to the dignity at the Herald's College. The first-named is great-grandson of John Payne, who succeeded his father, Sir Gillies, 2nd baronet, without dispute, and d. in 1803, and was in turn succeeded by his son Charles, also without dispute. In 1828 Peter Payne, the younger brother of John Payne (ante), on an allegation of the illegitimacy of his elder brother, the said John Payne, and in consequence of a finding by a Master in Chancery in certain legal proceedings (to which, however, the above-mentioned Charles Payne was not a party), relative to the custom of the Manor of Atlingworth, in which he was found to be the eldest legitimate son of Sir Gillies, assumed the title, but the order of confirmation of the Court in regard to this finding was subsequently discharged, and an issue offered as to the legitimacy of both John and Peter Payne; this issue, however, was never tried. From Peter is descended the second-named.

The ancestors of this family were established for many generations at Montauban, in Languedoc, being ennobled by patent 1547. On the revocation of the "Edict of Nantes," Samuel de Péchels and his family were the objects of persecution, and after suffering extreme cruelties, M Péchels was shipped with felons for the West Indies, whence he escaped to Ireland. His two daughters, who had been taken from him, were placed in a convent and brought up as Catholics; they afterwards obtained a grant of all their father's lands, by virtue of a letter from Louis XIV. His son, Jacob, afterwards split the name Pechell, and the patent of baronetcy was so made out. Sir Thomas, 2nd baronet, assumed in 1801 the additional surname of Brooke, by royal sign-manual, for himself and his issue. The 4th baronet was a Vice-Adm., and sometime M.P. for Brighton (L).

The former baronetcy of 1620 (claimed by the present holder of the 1809 creation as 12th Bt., which claim, however, has not been officially established at the Heralds' College), belonged to the old Kentish family, originally called Rookehurst and later Roobertes, and apparently became extinct on the demise in 1745 of Sir Walter, 6th baronet, who left an only daughter, Jane, who married the 3rd Duke of St. Albans. About 1775 the Duchess believed she had discovered the descendants of Thomas, second son of the 1st baronet, seated at Brightfieldstown, Roberts' Cove, co. Cork; and the title was assumed by the then head of that family, Randal, and subsequently by his eldest son Thomas, to whom, however, a new patent of Baronetcy was passed in 1809. The ancient property of Glasvenbury, Cranbrook, Kent, which had then been in the direct line for nearly seven centuries, was left by the Duchess of St. Albans to the second son of this Sir Thomas, viz., Col. Thomas Walton Roberts, J.P. (High Sheriff of Kent 1879), who d. 1882, and devised the said property by will to his nephew, the late Major John Roberts Atkin-Roberts, J.P., whose son is the present owner.

The 1st baronet, Adm Sir Michael Seymour, K.C.B., when in command of the "Amethyst" frigate, on the night of Nov. 10th, 1808, fell in with the French frigate "La Thetis" off L. Orient, which, after a gallant resistance, was captured. This action, for gallantry, skill, and courage, has scarcely been equalled. George III. signified his approbation by presenting him with a gold medal, and 1 Lloyd's Patriotic Fund voted him 100 guineas. The 2nd baronet assumed by royal license in 1842 the additional surname of Culme, to perpetuate the name of his first wife, which would otherwise have become extinct.

Hæc manus ob patriam.

This hand for my country.

This family takes its name from Shuckburgh in Warwickshire, where it has been seated since the 10th century. Richard Shuckburgh, Esq., M.P. for the county in 1641, and father of the 1st baronet, armed all his tenants, and joined King Charles I. at Edgcott, where he was knighted. After the battle of Edge Hill, he retired and fortified himself on Shuckburgh Hill, where most of his tenantry were slain and he himself was taken prisoner. After being confined in Kenilworth Castle a considerable time, he purchased his liberty at a dear rate. His eldest son, John, was created a baronet by Charles II.

Sir George, the 3rd baronet was fined £1,460 for his loyalty to Charles I. In 1670 he obtained a new patent granted to himself, with the old precedence and with a special remainder to his second son John, and his heirs male intending thereby to exclude his first son. The elder son, however, on his father's decease, claimed and enjoyed the baronetcy created by the original patent, so that there were two baronetries in the family till on the death (without issue) of Sir John, 6th baronet under the old creation, they became united in Sir John, 3rd baronet of the new. The 11th baronet, having been for twenty years Physician to the Northampton Infirmary, took Holy Orders, and subsequently became an eminent preacher

This family is descended from Andrew Steward great uncle of Robert I, King of Scotland, of that house. His son, John Stuart who settled in England, was in the train of James I of Scotland on his voyage to France, and was detained prisoner with him in 1406. He was subsequently knighted at a tournament by Henry IV. Alexander Steward (son of Andrew) was knighted, and received an honourable augmentation to his arms from Charles VI, King of France. The 1st and 2nd baronets each held the office of a Chamberlain of the Exchequer. The 2nd and 3rd baronets successively sat as M P for Hampshire. In 1829, on the death of his grandfather, the last Earl of Carhampton, the 5th baronet was offered a fresh patent by George IV, which, however, he did not accept. The present baronet is representative of the Earldom of Carhampton (ext) and the Barony of Wiltam (ext)

The name of this family is supposed to be derived either from Walsham le Willows in Suffolk, or Walsham St. Mary in Norfolk in both of which counties, as in Cambridgeshire the Walshams were of note, and often of knightly rank from the end of the 11th to the beginning of the 18th century. The Walshams of Knill represent a branch that settled in Radnorshire about 300 years ago, through the marriage of John Walsham with Mary, granddaughter and heiress of Sir Jenkin Harvey of Llanvair, Knight. From this marriage lineally descended John Walsham, who married Barbara, granddaughter and heiress of John Knill, Esq. of Knill Court. M.P. for Radnor temp. Philip and Mary, and was the direct ancestor in the ninth degree, of the present baronet. The 1st baronet received his baronetcy as being the eldest coheir and representative of Gen. Sir Thomas Morgan Bt. whose title, created 1660 became extinct on his death, 1768. Sir John Walsham K.C.M.G., 2nd Bt., was Envoy Extraord. and Min. Plen. to China 1885-92 and to Roumania 1892-3.

- The Welbys are an ancient Lincolnshire family, of which the first mention appears in the "Liber Niger Scaccarii," temp. Hen. II.; this records that Johannes de Wellebi held, under Mauricius de Crun, a knight's fee and a half, "de antiquo feodo," enfeoffed before 1135. Many of them have successively sat in Parliament since 9 Hen. V. The first who served as Sheriff of Lincolnshire was Roger de Welby in the 20 Richard II. The 1st, 2nd, and 3rd baronets successively represented Grantham in Parliament, and the 3rd baronet assumed the additional surname of Gregory. Sir William, 4th baronet also sat as M.P. for Grantham (C) 1857-68 and for Lincolnshire S. 1868-84, and assumed by Royal licence 1876 the additional surname of Gregory.

The 1st baronet Sir Matthew Wood born 1767 was the son of a serge manufacturer, of Iiverton, and at eleven years of age worked in his father's factory. At fourteen he was apprenticed to Mr Newton druggist at Exeter. After serving seven years he became a traveller in the drug trade, and subsequently established himself in London as a chemist. He afterwards became a hop merchant, and was chosen Alderman served as a Sheriff and in the year of the Peace 1815 was elected Lord Mayor of London to which office he was re-elected the following year. He also at M.P. for London (L) 1816-43. During his mayoralty he was bold and fearless. On one occasion after a lawless mob had shot a man on Snow Hill and were approaching the Exchange he with only seven others rushed through that building and held the rioters in check while he arrested several of the ringleaders. He took an active part in the cause of Queen Caroline he accompanied her through Calais and Dover on her journey to London in 1820 and placed his house in South Audley Street at her disposal. His fortune was after much litigation augmented on the death of Jenny Wood the banker of Gloucester to the extent of £250,000. Among these possessions was the estate of Hatherley Court in Gloucestershire a fine old ivy mantled mansion and from its name his second son William Page who was Lord High Chancellor 1868-72, selected his title.

THE KNIGHTAGE AND COMPANIONAGE.

ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD, ETC.

CENTRAL CHANCERY OF ORDERS OF KNIGHTHOOD

Lord Chamberlain's Office, St. James's Palace, S W.

Secretary and Registrar—The Comptroller of the Lord Chamberlain's Department

The Insignia of the lower class of an Order should on promotion of the recipient to a higher class be returned to the Central Chancery, except in the case of the Royal Victorian Order, which should be sent to the Secretary of that Order, Privy Purse Office, Buckingham Palace, S W., and recipients of the Indian Orders resident in India, who return theirs to the Secretary of that Order at Calcutta

KNIGHTS of the GARTER, THISTLE, and ST PATRICK, and KNIGHTS GRAND CROSS or GRAND COMMANDER of the various Orders wear their Collars only on special festival days, or when commanded by the Sovereign. These are tied on the shoulder with white satin bows $1\frac{1}{2}$ inch wide. The collar and ribbon of an Order are never worn together. When a Knight of this degree possesses more than one Order he is entitled to wear one or more collars at his option.

With evening dress the Ribbon and Badge are worn under the coat while the Star is affixed to the coat on the left breast.

KNIGHTS COMMANDERS of the various Orders wear the Ribbon and Badge round the neck, inside and under the Uniform Coat Collar, or with evening dress, under the white tie, the Star is affixed to the left breast.

When a Knight is entitled to more than one Star, if two, they should be placed immediately above one another, that of the senior order being at the top; if, however, there are three Stars, the two senior ones should be placed side by side at the top with the junior disposed centrally underneath.

MEMBERS of the ORDER OF MERIT and COMMANDERS of the ROYAL VICTORIAN ORDER wear ribbon and Badge in the same way as Knights Commanders.

COMPANIONS of the Orders affix the Badge by a brooch to the left breast, but with evening dress the Badge is worn in miniature on the left coat lapel.

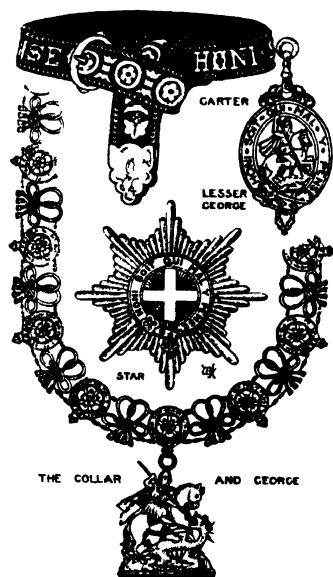

Miniature Insignia of Knights Grand Cross and Knights Commanders are only worn in accordance with Army Regulation, and there is no miniature for Commanders of the Royal Victorian Order.

charged with an Imperial Crown or, all within a circle of sky-blue enamel (sometimes in practice gold), with the motto of the Order, Quis separat MDCLXXXIII, thereon in letters of gold, the whole enclosed in a wreath of trefoils enamelled in their proper colours on a gold ground. The Badge is removed from the chain when it is worn with the ribbon of the Order, which is sky blue four inches wide; the Grand Master and Officers of the Order use one two inches wide. At death the Badge and Stai are delivered up by the Knight's nearest male relative either to His Majesty or the Viceroy of Ireland, the Collar being returned to Ulster King of Arms. There is no Chapel of the Order, but before the Disestablishment of the Irish Church Investitures took place in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin; now they are held in St. Patrick's Hall, Dublin Castle.

The ceremony of investiture is as follows: The two Junior Knights conduct the Knight elect to the Sovereign's presence. The Chancellor of the Order reads over to him the declaration, the Knight elect repeating it sentence by sentence. He then signs the Register and kneels down, when the Sovereign, assisted by the two Senior Knights present, places over the new Knight's right shoulder the ribbon with badge, reading the admonition. After kissing hands the Knight rises and is girded with the sword, the Chancellor pronouncing an admonition. He is next robed with the Mantle, a further admonition being read by the Chancellor. The new Knight's banner is then unfurled, and, after a flourish of trumpets, Ulster King of Arms declares the new Knight's title, the Sovereign shakes his hand, and Ulster conducts him to his seat.

THE MOST HONOURABLE ORDER OF THE BATH.

The Order of the Bath was instituted in 1399. After the time of Charles II. it fell into decay, and remained obsolete until it was revived by George I. in 1725. The provisions of the Order were enlarged in 1815 and further extended in 1847, when new statutes regarding appointments to the Order were promulgated, these subsequently being modified in 1905 and 1912. It now consists of three classes: (1) KNIGHTS GRAND CROSS (fifty-five military and twenty-seven civil), exclusive of the Sovereign, Princes of the Blood Royal, and distinguished foreigners who may be nominated to the honorary distinction. These Knights are entitled to receive a grant of supporters to their armorial bearings and to wear the collar, the badge, and the star embroidered on the left side of the crimson mantle below a white silk lace. (2) KNIGHTS COMMANDERS (145 military and 105 civil), exclusive of foreign officers who may be admitted as Honorary Knights Commanders. Each Commander is entitled to the distinctive appellation of knighthood after he has been invested with the insignia, and to wear the badge pendent by a two-inch crimson ribbon round the neck. (3) COMPANIONS (705 military and 283 civil—further increased as to civil in 1912, to enable Naval officers above the rank of Lieut. to be decorated—exclusive of any "Additional Members" which may be appointed), wear the badge pendent by an inch and a half crimson ribbon on the left breast.

The Insignia are (1) the COLLAR of gold (weighing thirty ounces troy), composed of nine Imperial Crowns or and eight devices, each consisting of a rose, a thistle, and a shamrock, issuing from a gold sceptre, all enamelled in their proper colours; the crowns and devices being linked together with seventeen knots enamelled argent, and having pendant therefrom the badge of the Order. (2) The MILITARY KNIGHT GRAND CROSS STAR is formed of rays of silver, thereon a gold Maltese cross, in the centre whereof on a ground argent three Imperial Crowns, one and two or, the three crowns within a circle gules inscribed with the motto of the Order, Tria juncta in uno, in letters of gold, the said circle encompassed by two branches of laurel proper, issuing from an escroll azure inscribed Ich dien in letters of gold. (iii) CIVIL KNIGHT GRAND CROSS STAR is of rays of silver issuing from a centre and charged with three Imperial Crowns, one and two within a circle gules upon which is the motto of the Order in gold. The Collar and Badge are returned at death to the Central Chancery, but not so the investment Badge and Star (iv) MILITARY KNIGHT COMMANDER'S STAR is in the form of a cross patee of silver, being made of four rays of silver, between each of which is a smaller ray, also of silver, and has the same centre as the Knight's Grand Cross, but without a gold Maltese cross thereon. (v) CIVIL KNIGHT COMMANDER'S STAR is of the same form and size, but without a laurel wreath round the circle containing the motto and the escroll, and without the words Ich dien underneath [The Crowns in the Stars are of different designs for Civil and Military] (vi) MILITARY BADGE is a gold Maltese cross of eight points, enamelled argent, edged gold, and terminating with small gold balls, in each of the four angles a lion passant guardant or, in the centre on a ground argent the rose, thistle, and shamrock, issuing from a sceptre between three Imperial Crowns all or, within a circle gules, thereon the motto of the order,

INSIGNIA OF THE ORDER OF THE BATH.

Tria juncta in uno, in gold letters and encompassed by two branches of laurel proper, issuing from an escroll azure inscribed Ich dien in letters of gold [It is worn by Knights Grand Cross pendent from a four-inch crimson ribbon across the right shoulder to the left side, by Knights Commanders from the neck, and by Companions from the button-hole] (vii) CIVIL BADGE is oval and comprises a rose, thistle, and shamrock, issuing from a sceptre between three Imperial Crowns the whole pierced and encircled by the motto, all gold [Civil Knight Commanders wear the same badge of a smaller size round the neck by a crimson ribbon and Civil Companions wear from the left breast a still smaller size pendent by a crimson ribbon attached by a buckle] The Badge and Star of a K.C.B. and the Badge of a C.B. are not returned after death. The MANTLE of a Knight Grand Cross is of crimson, bearing on the shoulder a representation of the Star, and the Hat is also of crimson, high crowned and with a plume of white feathers at the side Henry VII's Chapel in Westminster Abbey is the Chapel of the Order

THE ORDER OF MERIT.

This is a very exclusive Order, instituted by King Edward VII. on June 26th, 1902 by letters patent, but carries with it no special title or personal precedence.

The BADGE of the Order (which is always worn round the neck, and is not returnable at death) consists of a cross of red and blue enamel of eight points, having the words "For Merit" (the motto of the Order) in gold letters within a laurel wreath on a blue enamel centre. The reverse of the badge shows the Royal and Imperial cipher in gold (two silver swords with gold hilts, placed saltirewise between the angles of the cross, being added in the case of members chosen for military or naval distinction) also within a laurel wreath, on a blue enamel centre; and the whole is surmounted by the Imperial Crown enamelled in colour, and suspended by a parti-coloured ribbon of Garter blue and crimson, two inches broad. The Sovereign's insignia, except, of course, for the modifications necessary to distinguish the Royal dignity of the wearer, is similar to the insignia worn by the ordinary members of the Order. The ceremony of investiture is from time to time conducted by the Sovereign as in the case of any other Order, the members designate being introduced by the officer of the Order in attendance. Members of the Order are entitled to attach a facsimile of its badge and ribbon to their arms, and add the letters O.M. after their names, usually after those of the Bath. The Seal of the Order is a facsimile of the badge, impaled with the Royal Arms, on a white ground, with the legend, "The Seal of the Order of Merit." June 26th is the anniversary of the Order. The Secretary and Registrar, who wears, as his badge of office, a decoration similar to that worn by the members of the Order, with the addition of two silver pens placed saltirewise between the angles of the cross, takes charge of the Seal of the Order, keeps a record of its members, conducts all correspondence connected with it, and makes an entry of all its proceedings in the register of the Order, the Chancery of which is in the office of the Lord Chamberlain of the Household.

THE MOST EXALTED ORDER OF THE STAR OF INDIA.

The Order of the Star of India was instituted by Queen Victoria in 1861, and enlarged 1866, 1876, 1897, 1902, and 1911, and the dignity of Knight Grand Commander may be conferred on Princes or Chiefs of India, or upon British subjects for important and loyal service rendered to the Indian Empire; the second and third classes for services in the Indian Empire of not less than thirty years in the department of the Sec. of State for India. It consists of the Sovereign, a Grand Master (the Viceroy of India), the first class of forty-four Knights Grand Commanders (22 British and 22 Native), the second class of one hundred Knights Commanders, and the third class of two hundred Companions, exclusive of Extra and Honorary Members, as well as certain additional Knights and Companions.

The Insignia are (i) the COLLAR of gold, composed of the lotus of India, of palm branches tied together in saltire, of the united red and white rose, and in the centre an Imperial Crown; all enamelled in their proper colours and linked together by gold chains. (ii) The STAR OF A KNIGHT GRAND COMMANDER is composed of rays of gold issuing from a centre, having thereon a star of five points in diamonds resting upon a light blue enamelled circular riband, tied at the ends and inscribed with the motto of the Order, Heaven's Light our Guide, also in diamonds. That of a Knight Commander is somewhat different, and is described below. (iii) The BADGE, an onyx cameo having Her Majesty Queen Victoria's Royal effigy thereon, set in a perforated and ornamented oval, containing the motto of the Order surmounted by a star of five points, all in diamonds. (22) The MANTLE of light blue satin lined with white, and fastened with a cordon of white silk with blue and silver tassels. On the left side a representation of the star of the Order.

THE MOST DISTINGUISHED ORDER OF ST. MICHAEL AND ST. GEORGE.

The Order of St. Michael and St. George, instituted in 1818, and enlarged and extended in 1868, 1877, 1887, and 1902, is conferred on natural-born subjects of the Crown of the United Kingdom who may hold, or have held, high or confidential office within the British Colonial possessions, and in reward for services in relation to the foreign affairs of the Empire. It consists of not more than one hundred Knights Grand Cross (of whom the Grand Master is the first and principal), exclusive of Honorary Members, three hundred Knights Commanders, and six hundred Companions. The Knights Grand Cross are entitled to bear supporters, and to encircle their coats of arms with the collar, ribbon, and motto of the Order. The Knights Commanders encircle their arms with the ribbon and motto, and Companions suspend the badge of the Order to their arms. The Insignia are :

Insignia of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

(i) The STAR of the Knight Grand Cross, is composed of seven rays of silver having a small ray of gold between each of them, and over all the Cross of St. George gules; in the centre is the representation of the Archangel St. Michael holding in his dexter hand a flaming sword and trampling upon Satan, within a blue circle, inscribed with the motto, Auspicium melioris avi, in letters of gold. (ii) The COLLAR of gold, formed alternately of lions of England royally crowned, of Maltese crosses of white enamel, and of the cyphers S. M. and S. G., having in the centre the Imperial Crown over two winged lions, passant guardant, each holding in his fore paw a book and seven arrows; at the opposite end of the collar are two similar lions, the whole linked together by small chains. (iii) The BADGE is a cross of fourteen points enamelled argent, edged gold, having in the centre on one side the Archangel St Michael holding in his dexter hand a flaming sword and trampling upon Satan, and on the other St George on horseback and in armour with a spear encountering a dragon, each within a blue circle, on which is inscribed the motto of the Order in letters of gold; the badge is designed by an Imperial Crown gold, and it is worn by the Knights Grand Cross, either attached to the collar or to a four inch Saxon-blue ribbon with a scarlet stripe from the right shoulder to the left side. (iv) The MANTLE is of Saxon-blue satin, lined with scarlet silk, tied with a cordon of blue and scarlet silk and gold with two tassels of the same colours, and having on the left side the Star of the Order. (v) The CHATEAU is of blue satin, lined with scarlet and surmounted with white and black ostrich feathers. THE MOST EMINENT ORDER OF THE INDIAN EMPIRE

This Order, instituted by H M Queen Victoria, Empress of India, Jan 1st, 1878, and extended and enlarged in 1886, 1887, 1892, 1897, 1902, and 1911, is conferred for services rendered to the Indian Empire, and consists of the Sovereign, a Grand Master, forty Knights Grand Commanders (of whom the Grand Master is first and principal), one hundred and twenty Knights Commanders, and an indefinite number of Companions (not exceeding, without special statute, 40 nominations in any one year), also Extra and Honorary Members over and above the vacancies caused by promotion to a higher class of the Order, as well as certain Additional Knights and Companions appointed by special statute Jan 1st, 1909, commemorative of the 50th Anniversary of the assumption of Crown Govt in India.

Insignia of the Order of the Indian Empire

The Insignia are (i) The COLLAR of gold, formed of elephants, lotus flowers, peacocks in their pride, and Indian roses, in the centre the Imperial Crown, the whole linked together with chains, (ii) The STAR of the Knight Grand Commander, comprised of five rays of silver, having a smaller ray of gold between each of them, the whole alternately plain and scaled, issuing from a gold centre, having thereon Her Majesty Queen Victoria's Royal Effigy, within a purple circle, inscribed Imperatrix Auspicius, and surmounted by an Imperial Crown, gold, (iii) The BADGE, consisting of a rose enamelled gules, barbed vert, and having in the centre Her Majesty Queen Victoria's Royal Effigy, within a purple circle, inscribed Imperatrix Auspicius, surmounted by an Imperial Crown, also gold, (iv) The MANTLE is of Imperial purple satin, lined with and fastened by a cordon of white silk, with purple silk and gold tassels attached. On the left side a representation of the Star of the Order.

The ribbon of a KNIGHT GRAND COMMANDER is of purple and four inches in width. A Knight Commander wears (a) around his neck a purple ribbon two inches in width, of the same colour (purple) and pattern as a Knight Grand Commander, pendent therefrom a badge of smaller size (b) on his left breast a star, similar to that of the first class, but the rays of which are all of silver.

The above-mentioned Insignia are returned at death to the Central Chancery, or if the Knight was resident in India to the Secretary of the Order at Calcutta.

A Companion wears from the left breast a badge (not returnable at death) of the same form as appointed for a Knight Commander, but of smaller size, pendent to a like ribbon of the breadth of one and a half inches

For RECIPIENTS see "KNIGHTAGE" and "COMPANIONAGE"

Secretary—Spencer Harcourt Butler, Esq C S I, C I E.

THE ROYAL VICTORIAN ORDER

This Order, instituted by H M Queen Victoria, Empress of India, April 21st, 1896, consists of the Sovereign, Ordinary Members, and such Honorary Members as the Sovereign shall from time to time appoint, the Members being divided into five classes, and designated respectively (1) Knights Grand Cross, (2) Knights Commanders, (3) Commanders, (4) Members of the Fourth Class, and (5) Members of the Fifth Class.

The persons to be admitted as Ordinary Members of this Order shall be such persons, being subjects of the British Crown, who, having rendered extraordinary, or important, or personal service to the Sovereign, merit Royal favour, and the Honorary Members of the several classes consist of those Foreign Princes and persons upon whom the Sovereign may think fit to confer the honour of being received into the Order

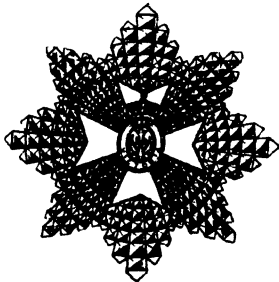

The Members of the several grades in the Order are to have place and precedence as follows.—the Knights Grand Cross, Knights Commanders, and Commanders next to and immediately after the Knights Grand Commanders and Knights Commanders of the Most Eminent Order of the Indian Empire, the Members of the Fourth Class after the Companions of the said Most Eminent Order, and the Members of the Fifth Class after the Companions of the Distinguished Service Order

The number of the Members is unlimited, and the anniversary of the Order is the Twentieth day of June every year, being the day of Her late Majesty Queen

Victoria's Accession to the Throne of these Realms

The MANTLE of a Knight Grand Cross is of dark blue satin, edged with red satin two inches in width, the edging of the collar being half an inch wide, lined with white silk, the mantle being fastened by a cordon of dark blue silk and gold, having

C. V. O. Star.

C. V. O. Star

two dark blue silk and gold tassels attached thereto, on the left side of the mantle is embroidered a representation of the Star of a Knight Grand Cross of the Order. The COLLAR is of gold, composed of octagonal pieces and oblong perforated and ornamental frames alternately, linked together with gold, the said pieces edged and ornamented with gold, each containing upon a blue enamelled ground a gold rose jewelled with a carbuncle, and the said frames are of gold, each containing a portion of the inscription "Victoria . Britt. Reg. Def. Fid. . Ind. Imp." in letters of white enamel, in the centre of the collar, within a perforated and ornamental frame of gold, is an octagonal piece, enamelled blue, edged with red, and charged with a white suture thereon a gold medallion of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria's effigy, from which hangs the Cross of the Order (detachable)

The BADGE of Knights Grand Cross consists of a white enamelled Maltese cross of eight points; on an oval centre of crimson enamel the Royal and Imperial cypher in gold, within a blue enamelled circle, thereon the motto of the Order, namely, "Victoria" in letters of gold, the circle being surmounted by an Imperial Crown enamelled in proper colours, and is worn over the right shoulder, suspended from a dark blue ribbon with a narrow edge either side of three stripes—red, white, and red—of the breadth of three inches and three-quarters, passing from the right shoulder to the left side.

Fig. 10. Badge.

The STAR of Knights Grand Cross consists of a silver chipped star of eight points; in the centre a representation of the Badge of the First Class of the Order.

The Knights Commanders wear around their necks a ribbon of the same colours as that of the Knights Grand Cross, of the breadth of one inch and three-quarters, and pendent therefrom the badge, which is of the same pattern as, but of smaller size than, that of a Knight Grand Cross. The star is composed of a Maltese cross in silver, with smaller rays issuing from the centre between the angles of the cross, in the centre the badge of the Order as before described, with the cross in frosted silver instead of white enamel.

The Commanders wear around their necks the like riband and badge as that appointed for the Knights Commanders, but are not entitled to wear the star.

The Members of the Fourth Class wear a badge of the same form and appearance as that appointed for the Commanders, but of smaller size, pendent from a ribbon of the same colours, of the breadth of an inch and a quarter, attached from the left breast.

The Members of the Fifth Class wear, from the left breast, the same riband and badge as that appointed for the Fourth Class, with the exception that the cross is of frosted silver instead of white enamel.

The Collar is returnable at death or on receipt of the Collar of an Order of higher rank, and the other Insignia is returnable on presentation to a higher class in the Order, but not at death.

["The Royal Victorian Medal" (silver-gilt, silver, or bronze, having on the obverse the Royal effigy, and on the reverse the Royal and Imperial cypher upon an ornamental shield within a wreath of laurel, in base a scroll, thereon the words "Royal Victorian Medal") was also instituted by Queen Victoria. This Medal is worn on the left breast of the coat or outer garment pendent to a ribbon of the breadth of one inch and a quarter of the same colour and pattern as that appointed for the members of the Royal Victorian Order. Later King Edward VII founded a decoration, in Aug. 1902, styled the "Royal Victorian Chain," which is only bestowed on special occasions, and may be worn on all occasions when the Ribbon of the Victorian Order is worn.]

THE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER.

This Order, instituted by H M Queen Victoria, by Royal Warrant, Sept 6th, 1886, consists of the Sovereign, and of the Members or Companions, and may be conferred on commissioned officers of the Navy or Army who have been specially mentioned in despatches for meritorious or distinguished services in the field or before the enemy.

The BADGE of the Order (which is not returnable at death) is a gold cross enamelled white, edged gold, having on one side thereof in the centre, within a wreath of laurels enamelled green, the Imperial Crown in gold, upon a red enamelled ground, and on the reverse, within a similar wreath, and on a similar red ground, the Imperial and Royal Cypher (of the current reign). It is to be suspended from the left breast by a red riband, edged blue, of one inch in width.

For RECIPIENTS see "KNIGHTAGE" and "COMPANIONAGE."

Secretary and Registrar—Reginald Herbert Brade, Esq., C. B.

THE IMPERIAL SERVICE ORDER.

This Order was instituted by King Edward VII. on August 8th, 1902 (and extended June 1909 and March 1912), with a view of recognising faithful and meritorious service rendered by members (both male and female) of the administrative and clerical branches of the Civil Services of the various parts of the Empire. It now consists of the Sovereign, the Prince of Wales, and not more than 700 Companions (250 for the Home Civil Service, 200 for the Civil Services in India, including the Staff of the Secretary of State for India (100 appointments for Europeans and 100 for natives of India), and 225 for the Civil Services of the Colonies and Protectorates, including the Staff of the Crown Agents for the Colonies), recommended by one of the Principal Secretaries of State after 25 years' service (or 16 years in certain unhealthy Colonies). The BADGE of the Order, which is not returnable at death, is (for men) a badge or medallion of gold or enamel, bearing the Imperial and Royal Cipher (of the current Reign), and the words "for faithful service," both executed in dark blue enamel on a plaque or shield of gold surrounded by a seven-pointed star of silver surmounted by the Imperial Crown, and (for women) a similar badge, save that the plaque is surmounted by a wreath of laurel in silver in place of the star. This decoration is worn by males on the left breast suspended by a ribbon of one inch and a half in width (consisting of a stripe of blue between two stripes of crimson of equal size), and by females on the left shoulder suspended by a ribbon of the same colour and width fashioned into a bow. The Companions of the Order add the letters "I.S.O." after their names. The Secretary and Registrar of the Order is ex-officio a Companion [Members of the Civil Service, not eligible as Companions of this Order, may on retirement after 25 years of service in the United Kingdom, or in the case of Europeans serving in India 20 years service, or 16 in a Colony or Protectorate which is recognised as unhealthy, be awarded a medal designated the Imperial Service Medal, similar in design to the Badge of the Order. Not more than 5 Members under 25 years service may be so appointed in each year.]

For RECIPIENTS see "KNIGHTAGE" and "COMPANIONAGE."

Secretary and Registrar—Robert Froding Reynard Esq., I.S.O.

THE VICTORIA CROSS.

The Victoria Cross Decoration was instituted January 29th, 1856, for the purpose of signalling special individual acts of bravery. It may be conferred upon those holding any rank in the Naval or Military Services, and carries with it a pension of £10 to non-commissioned officers and men. The Badge consists of a bronze cross pattée with the Royal Crown in the centre and underneath a scroll bearing the inscription "For Valour." Additional acts of bravery are recorded by extra bars affixed to the ribbon suspending the Cross, each extra bar carrying an additional £5 per annum. Recipients place "V.C." after their names. It was extended in 1911 to include the native officers, non-commissioned officers, and men of the Indian Army, the pension being for officers 525 and 150 rupees for Cross and additional bars respectively, while for non-commissioned officers and men it is 150 and 75 rupees respectively.

THE KAISAR-I-HIND MEDAL.

This Decoration, which was instituted by Queen Victoria in 1900, and amended in 1901 and 1912, is bestowed for the rendering of public service in India, without distinction of race or sex, and consists of two classes, the medal being of gold for the First Class (on recommendation of the Sec of State for India), and of silver for the Second (on recommendation of the Gov.-Gen of India). It consists of an oval shaped Badge with Royal Cipher in the centre on one side, and the words "Kaisar-i-Hind for Public Service" on the other; extra bars are granted for additional services.

THE ORDER OF THE HOSPITAL OF ST. JOHN OF JERUSALEM IN ENGLAND.

This Confraternity has for its object the carrying on and performance of ambulance and other charitable work. It received a Royal Charter of Incorporation under the name of "The Grand Priory of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England" in 1888, and consists of Knights and Ladies of Justice, Chaplains, Knights and Ladies of Grace, and Esquires. A supplemental Charter was granted in 1907, empowering the Grand Prior to establish Priories in any part of the British Dominions. Appointments to the Order are sanctioned, but not made, by the Sovereign, and while the Insignia of the Order may be worn in England, such appointments to the Order do not carry with them any rank, style, title, or personal precedence. The Badge is a white enamelled Maltese Cross with a lion and unicorn in alternate angles. This Order is not the same as the Ancient Order of St. John of Jerusalem, or Knights of Malta.

THE ORDER OF MERCY.

Appointments to this Order are approved and sanctioned by the Sovereign on the presentation of the Grand President of the League of Mercy, as a reward for distinguished, personal service rendered on behalf of the League (established to assist the support of hospitals), or in connection with the relief of suffering, poverty, or distress. The Order consists of a red cross surmounted by the Badge of the Heir-Apparent (plume of ostrich feathers enfiled by a coronet), and having in the centre a group of figures representing "Charity." Persons of either sex, who have gratuitously rendered the required services to the League for five years at least, are eligible for the Order.

FOREIGN ORDERS.

Under date of May 8th, 1911, fresh regulations were issued respecting the wearing of Foreign Orders and Medals, intimating that it is the King's wish that no subject of His Majesty shall wear the Insignia of any Foreign Order without having previously obtained His Majesty's permission to do so, signified either: (a) By Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual, or (b) by private permission conveyed through His Majesty's Private Secretary. Permission given by Warrant under the Royal Sign-Manual will enable the Insignia of the Foreign Order to be worn at all times and without any restriction. Private permission will only enable the Insignia to be worn on the occasions specified in the terms of the letter from the King's Private Secretary conveying the Royal sanction. The full and unrestricted permission is designed to meet cases where the Decoration may be said to have been earned by some valuable service rendered to the Head of the State conferring it, or to the State itself, as well as to Naval or Military Officers or other Officers lent to a Foreign Government, or to Officers attached during hostilities to a Foreign Navy or Army. The private or restricted permission is contemplated for Decorations which are more or less of a complimentary character. Notification of the desire of the Head of a Foreign State to confer upon a British subject the Insignia of an Order, or the fact that he has done so, must be made to His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, either through the British Diplomatic Representative accredited to the Head of the Foreign State, or through his Diplomatic Representative at the Court of St. James. No permission is needed to accept a Foreign Medal if it is not intended to be worn; otherwise permission must be obtained. The full regulations and the particular services to which the two forms of permission are applicable are fully set out in the London Gazette of May 12th, 1911.
